The International Development, Peace and Security Option is appropriate for students who are interested in regional geography and international studies with a focus on conflict resolution. Students in this option select a set of courses focusing on a specific region of the world.

Below are the requirements that need to be completed in order to earn the Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Arts degree in geography with an option in International Development, Peace and Security. Meet with your advisor before you register each term. Make sure you check prerequisites and other course restrictions before attempting to register. You should only schedule a course for which you do not have the prerequisites after consultation with the instructor and your advisor. Using this sheet and the sheet showing program requirements for a BS or BA should help you keep on track toward successfully completing your degree.
